

Author Submission Agreement

Warranties & Ownership Overview

Channels:
Where Disciplines Meet

Thank you for submitting an article to Channels: Where Disciplines Meet (the "Journal").

Please review the following submission agreement ("Submission Agreement") and indicate your acceptance below.

Submitting an Article (the "Article"):

By submitting an Article, you represent and warrant that the following are true:

- You are the author, or the authorized agent of the author(s), and copyright holder, if different from the author(s);
 - the author(s) has approved the work for publication;
 - the author(s) has agreed to submit the Article to the Journal;
 - the author(s) accepts full responsibility for the content of the Article;
 - the Article is the author(s) original work and does not contain any libelous or unlawful statements; nor does it infringe on the rights or privacy of others, or contain material or instructions that might cause harm or injury;
 - the Article must not have been previously published in another journal, is not pending review elsewhere, and will not be submitted for review elsewhere pending the completion of the editorial decision process at the Journal;
 - the author(s) agrees that the Journal may make available, for a fee, printed copies of the Journal on a print-on-demand basis, and that any profits resulting from the sale of such items will be applied to the cost of maintaining the Journal.
- Each Article submitted will undergo the Journal's editorial process. The Journal is not under any obligation to publish the Article. The Journal will send you notices at the e-mail address associated with your account.
- If the Journal agrees to publish the Article, in order to expedite the publishing process and enable the Journal to circulate your work to the fullest extent, you hereby agree that the editorial staff may correct any errors in spelling, punctuation, etc.

Rights

By submitting the Article, you represent and warrant that you accept the following:

- the author(s) hereby grants to the Journal the non-exclusive license to archive and make accessible the Article in all forms of media, now or hereafter known.
- Channels publishes under the "Attribution-NonCommercial-No Derivatives" Creative Commons license (CC-BY-ND 4.0);
- No rights are assigned to or assumed by the Journal, and copyright is retained by the author(s).

By clicking Accept, the author(s) agrees and consents to this Submission Agreement and to the Journal policies.

You are encouraged to register your article with the United States Copyright Office. Due to a 2019 Supreme Court ruling, you will be unable to enforce your rights as the copyright holder unless the article is registered with that office. Click here to learn how to register your article.

Please print a copy of this document for your records and contact Digital Services with any questions or concerns.

The Channels Editorial Board